Why Not Smile?

Not Too Sure of John

An old lady and John, her coachman, were so bigoted that no recognized church service suited them, and so they used to worship together every Sunday in the drawing-room of the mansion.

A friend remonstrated with the old lady one day.

"Do you really think that you and your coachman," she said, "are the only true members of the only true Church on earth?"

"Well," said the bigoted old lady, thoughtfully, "I'm none too sure about John."

An Inspired Definition

A teacher was reading to her class when she came to the word "unaware." She asked if anyone knew the meaning. One little girl timidly raised her hand and offered the following definition:

"It's what you put on first and take off last."

Frattoli Office Boy—"You've kept me working every night till nine o'clock for three nights running now, and I'm wore out, Mr. Brown. I ain't no machine. I can't go forever."

Mr. Brown—"You're mistaken, my boy; quite mistaken. You go forever next pay day."

"A commonplace life, we say and we sigh

But why should be sigh as we say?

The commonplace sun in the common

Makes up the commonplace day.

The moon and the stars are commonplace things.

And the flower that blooms and the bird that sings;

But dark were the world, and sad our lot,

If it's flowers should fall and the sun shine not;

And God, who studies each separate soul,

Out of commonplace lives makes his beautiful whole."

Very Young Policeman (who has broken up a fracas between foreign women at dock): "where do you live?"
Lancaster—"Celestia"
V.Y.P.—"And where do you live?"
Chinaman—"Shanghai"
V.Y.P.—"Um—well, the best thing you two can do is to pop off home to bed."

Too Busy To Read

"An hour with a book would have brought to his mind

The secret that told him a whole year to find

The facts that he learned at enormous expense

Were all on ordinary shelf to command

Alas! for the hour too busy to read

We may win without patience or aptitude, purpose or wit;

We may even succeed if we're lacking in grit;

But take it from me as a mighty safe hint—

"A civilized man cannot win without print."

When Noah Won Out

"You remember Noah had to work a long time on that ark. It was up hill, down dale, too, at last, building a boat away out on dry land, while the local aval and hammer club sat round spitting tobacco juice upon his lumber, whittling up his pine boards with their jackknives, and telling him what a fool he was for expecting a big rain in a world that was too dry to grow alfalfa. But he kept at it. Finally the flood came and every mother's son of the croakers was drowned. This is the sacred or profane history, where a bunch of knackers got exactly what was coming to them."—From a mailing card issued by William Eskew, Portsmouth, O.

"Promises should be made with caution and kept with certainty

The Justice Of British Rule

Striking Comment in the Attitude of the Boers in the Recent War

There is a significant coincidence about the fact that volunteers of British and American nationalities flocked to Cape Town, to offer their services if Great Britain was involved in war in the Near East. These men realize what German propaganda was during the war, when we tested and rejected the lies circulated about our allies, do not remember the violent news of German propaganda during the Boer War. It went to the length of picturing the faces of Colonial Soldiers, the faces of the Boers and the late Queen Victoria in cap and other illegible vessels. It was full beyond conception, and in nothing under than lying about the "ill treatment" of Boer women and children in the concentration camps. And yet the Germans learned nothing from the concession of complete independence to a united South Africa, with a certain overwhelming majority of Boers in every colony but Natal, within three years of the suppression of the Boer republics. In spite of the Boer propaganda circulated, few wars in history left less bitterness or had a nobler result.

Subject to the enforced absence from their homes, the wives and children of the very Boers the British were fighting were held in camps, not as immigrants at Ellis Island, it is true that the British committed the outrage of inviting the Boers to learn to read and write their own language—Holland Dutch. So far from resenting the provision made for their dependents, the Boers were tremendously amused and considered they had "not something over." It was not in that way that the British handled the Belgians. The Boer republics were caught in an almost unbearable degree and were completely plotted by German and European Dutch adventures. Great Britain "took up the white man's burden" on Oct. 4, 1899, and in 1902, and exactly as she is asked to take it up for the benefit of the whole world, in the Boer War, she has never expected thanks, but perhaps for once in a while those who do not love the British might refrain from absolute calumny.

So far as Germany's African Empire is concerned, it was their injured friends, the Boers, who helped them to venture colonial expansion. It was the same "oppressed" Boers who volunteered for another service in the cause of civilization—Barnum's.

Ran 102 Miles An Hour

Record Made by English Train
in 1904 Just Revealed

The fact has just been revealed, after more than eighteen years of secrecy, that the English Southern Railway express train traveling from Plymouth to Paddington achieved a record speed of 102 miles an hour. According to the company's magazine for November, this record speed on May 9, 1904, attained an average speed, exclusive of stops, of 102 miles an hour, 66 miles an hour and at times exceeded 102 miles. The speed was recorded by the latitudes of a well-known writer on locomotive subjects, who had been permitted to travel on the train, and subsequently the General Manager, Sir James Inglis, refused to give his permission for the publication of the details.

Voted For Prohibition

California, Leading Wine Grapes Growers in Union, Goes Dry
(California), the leading wine grape growing state in the Union, and which once had hopes of competing with the champagne of France, has voted in the state of Germany, has at last gone "dry" after ten years of voting down prohibition measures. The new law makes the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead Act part of the law of California, which prohibits winegrowers, grape raisers, magistrates and peace officers must enforce.

Canada's Trade

The annual total of Canadian trade for the first six months of the fiscal year ended September 30, 1922, was $750,274,590, or $7,064,161 more than the six months period which ended September 30, 1921, when it was $743,210,429. Export figures for the period under review totaled $383,223,226, or an increase of $12,556,164 over the corresponding period in 1921, thanks to the value of $22,045,739 were imported into Canada in the first six months of the present fiscal year. As compared with 1921, $1,618,182 in the same period a year ago, a decrease of $1,618,524.51.

Trouble soon blows away and dies if neglected.

Stopped the Limited Express

Vice-President of Illinois Central Did Not Miss Race

When E. R. Harriman, the famous railway king, found something very much indeed he usually found a way of getting it. He was no exception in the example of his resourcefulness. His good friend, Mr. Harriman, wished to see one of the races of the trotting association at Goshen, New York, and he was in a hurry to get to the train that he intended to take, and there was no other except the Chicago Express, that would take him to his destination in time. Finding that the express made no local stops, he telephoned to the executive office of the Erie and asked whether they would not allow it to stop at Goshen as a personal accommodation. Harriman, as he was vice-president of the Illinois Central and it was customary for high railway officials to extend such courtesies to one another, the request was perfectly natural and proper; but when it was referred to the highest authority it was with a curt refusal. Mr. Harriman, however, was a hard man to beat.

Learning upon inquiry that the express could be flagged at Goshen if there happened to be any passengers there who wished to go to points west of the city, Harriman decided to flag the express at Goshen to buy a ticket for Chicago. Then at the appointed time he took his seat on the express at Jersey City. When the train reached Goshen, it stopped on signal for the accommodation of the non-existent passenger for Chicago, and Mr. Harriman got off and went to the race.

The high officials of the Erie would perhaps have treated Mr. Harriman with more deference and courtesy if they could have foreseen that in the not distant future he would save the Erie from another bankruptcy by putting up fire and a half million dollars of his own money—YOUTH'S Companion.

Medicinal Value in Tears

They Contain a Substance Capable of Killing Microbes

Few who let the tears roll down their cheeks realize that they are expelling a substance of great medicinal value. It has been discovered that tears contain a substance called lysozyme, which is capable of killing any number of microbes. If a tear is placed in a test tube with 100 million microbes, it will destroy them all. The action takes place in less than a second, and one drop of lysozyme will destroy all the germs it comes across. Its power never gives out. The discoverer of this remarkable substance is Dr. Alexander Fleming, of St. Mary's Hospital, London, and it took him six months to find out that it really existed. Lysozyme occurs naturally every part of the human body. It is found also in many vegetable substances as the tissues of some of the lower animals and certain vegetables, such as the turnip.

Faithfulness Rewarded

Quebec's Tramp Dog Has Been Restored to Master

Quebec's tramp dog, who for the last four years watched the Income Tax collector, has been restored to his master. The dog, who was named "Don" while overseas and when the dog reached Major Lawson at Milton, N.Y., recently, the recognition was mutual. The story is that Don, a wire-haired fox terrier, attached himself to the 20th Infantry overseas and followed that unit on a portion of the march into Germany. He was lost on the march, but he found his way back from Quebec of the dog, which haunted the docks and closely viewed all passengers. He was so persistent, at times almost annoying, that the authorities in Quebec to forward the dog to him.

Fishing Closes on Northern Lakes

After most successful season, fishing on the northern lakes has been brought to a close. As compared with previous years, exports have increased. Seventy-seven cars were shipped last year in the first 48 days. Chicago was the heaviest buyer.

A Brave Act Rewarded

Samuel J. Dixon wearing the Royal Humane Society Medal, awarded him for having saved the life of Miss Amelia Boudreau who stands beside him.

On October 16th, Samuel Jacob Dixon, of Penetang, Ontario, was presented with the Royal Humane Society's Home Medal for having, at the great risk of his own life, saved Miss Amelia Boudreau from death beneath a moving train. The event took place on February 15th last. The train had stopped at Penetang Station and when the usual station work had been completed it was to move forward. Miss Boudreau attempted to get aboard the train but had started. She grasped the handrail of one of the coaches toward the rear of the train but was unable to gain entrance as the vestibule doors were closed. It was while in this position, clinging to the handrail with the train moving, that the attention of Mr. Dixon was drawn. He immediately hurried to her assistance, but before reaching her, she fell between the platform and the train, her head coming in contact with the track of the coach and rendering her unconscious, thus throwing her across the rail. Mr. Dixon pulled Miss Boudreau clear of the foot of the coach and held her in a safe position until the train had passed.

The medal was presented following representations made by Canadian Pacific Railway officials who interested themselves in the matter, and the presentation was made by W. F. Urm, Assistant General Superintendent of the Company, who heartily congratulated Mr. Dixon on his act of conspicuous bravery.

Aid For Tubercular Women

Great Interest Being Shown in Connection With the Everywoman's

"Could you manage to attend a meeting on Monday at two o'clock?" "No, indeed, to the guards, but I'll be there." This question and answer were heard at a meeting of the Anti-Tubercular Work Committee of the Provincial Council of Women. It covers the time of killing any number of microbes. If a tear is placed in a test tube with 100 million microbes, it will destroy them all. The action takes place in less than a second, and one drop of lysozyme will destroy all the germs it comes across. Its power never gives out. The discoverer of this remarkable substance is Dr. Alexander Fleming, of St. Mary's Hospital, London, and it took him six months to find out that it really existed. Lysozyme occurs naturally every part of the human body. It is found also in many vegetable substances as the tissues of some of the lower animals and certain vegetables, such as the turnip.

A Strange Friendship

Tigress and Peacock in British Zoo Are Inseparable

A tigress and a peacock in the Belle Vue Gardens, Manchester, have struck up a friendship during the past few weeks, and are now inseparable. They occupy the same cage, drink from the same water tank, and occasionally the peacock will stretch over and take a piece of the tigress' food while she is eating. He walks on her back while she sleeps and pulls at her whiskers without provoking a word of objection. One of the proprietors of the gardens, Mr. George Jenkinson, declares that more than 2,000 years of zoological history had revealed no parallel to such a friendship.

An Outside View of Canada

"Our friends, the Canadians are prosperous and happy. Their money is to be paid, their crops abundant, their railroads are running, and off comes. Strikes don't tie them up. They have excellent government, their people are practically unlimited. A great people is growing up there to the north, destined to grow as large as all the British Empire as it stands now. And this country is glad of it. A good peacemaker is a good thing."

That Poetical Her

"Well," remarked the husband, after a long and heated argument on the question of man's superiority over woman, "I have observed that a good wife and perfect thing can have a woman cannot."

"Never! I deny it! What do you mean?"
"A wife," replied hubby.

Information For Farmers

Work At the Dominion Experimental Station, Lethbridge, Alberta

Every farm or station of the Dominion Experimental Farms system, which now pretty well covers the country, is of special value and importance to that section of Canada in which it is situated. A brief description of the work at the station at Lethbridge, Southern Alberta, is given in the Agricultural Gazette of Canada for September-October. The station has been in operation for fifteen years, and as the article explains, was established because it was felt that there was need for experimental work in connection with farming carried on under irrigation. The farm consists of four hundred acres, half of which is at present irrigated and half devoted to experimental work with non-irrigated or "dry land" farming. As the author, Mr. W. H. Fairfield, Superintendent at the Station, says, the necessity of investigation work will be recognized when it is stated that irrigation works are either completed or in course of construction for over one million acres of farm land in Southern Alberta.

Some of the problems that have to be solved are the most profitable crops to grow, how much water to use, and how often to irrigate. Alfalfa has shown itself to be an extremely profitable crop, and it is stated that the Lethbridge district produces 40,000 tons annually. Pasture tests have also been conducted to compare alfalfa alone with alfalfa mixed with clover, but that when mixed with alfalfa, such as Kentucky Blue grass, timothy and sheep may be pastured on it with impunity.

Among the many experiments that have been, or are being, carried out, the most important is the investigation, and it has been shown that strawberries, currants and raspberries can be successfully grown commercially. The station has also been found that winter killing can be prevented by covering the rows of fruit with straw instead of manure or straw.

Tree growing has been well demonstrated, and vigorous trees, thirty to forty feet high, are now in fruit. The station has also been found that what was "held" when the station was started. Poultry and bees receive considerable attention, the provincial eggplanting and beekeeping societies have been tested being conducted at the station and bees have produced an average of 40 pounds of honey in a season from one colony. There is also a small station that the work at the Lethbridge Station is being closely watched by the farmers of southern Alberta, and it is affording them a guide to their operations.

Alberta Steers Going To Eastern Shores

Will Be Exhibited at Toronto, Chicago and Other Cities

Seventeen steers from the University of Alberta were shipped to Toronto to the Royal Show and will go on to Chicago and the International at Chicago, and thence back to the Guelph Winter Show. These steers are the first having been presented to the province and fitted out for exhibition purposes to show what can be done in the way of finish on Canadian steers. Two years ago a similar exhibit was taken to Chicago and Guelph and brought a great deal of credit and desirable advertising to the province. The steers are in splendid condition and it is expected that they will bring no discredit either to their breeders or to the province, although at a show like the International or either of the other two, they go up against the swiftest competition on the continent.

Cracked Water Jacket Exhausted Supply of Other Liquids

An engine cooled by coffee, soup and condensed milk brought Lieutenant Oakley Kelly and John Macrae from the middle western states to the conclusion of their attempted flight. The steers are in splendid condition and it is expected that they will bring no discredit either to their breeders or to the province, although at a show like the International or either of the other two, they go up against the swiftest competition on the continent.

Canada's Foreign Trade

Canada has a commercial exchange with Asia (including Japan), but exclusive of Alaska, and "marked" last year $43,000,000 a year, according to unworked figures of the Dominion Landings of Statistics. With Germany, the Dominion does a business to the extent of $20,000,000 a year, while Mexico and the countries of South America amounted to $15,000,000 a year. In the aggregate this trade is divided between imports and exports.

To Beauty Winnipeg

Six thousand seedlings have been planted in Winnipeg gardens as a result of a "plant a poem" campaign. The city council has encouraged the effort to make a "city beautiful," the plants being sold at a low price, and the seedlings are to be planted in the city and the surrounding city hall and in the Provincial Parliament grounds.

Russians Study Agrarian Progress

Are Touring Canada and United States to Secure Information

To discuss farming problems in the United States and Russia, Professor N. M. Tulokov, Professor of the Russian State Institute of Experimental Agronomy, and D. M. Borodov, of the New York Russian Agricultural Bureau, held a conference recently with P. H. Auld, superintendent of Agriculture for Saskatchewan.

The two Russian officials also visited Saskatoon to meet professors of the Saskatchewan Agricultural College there, and to continue the studies of agrarian progress in the province.

They are touring Canada and the United States in an attempt to secure information that will be of benefit in the work of rehabilitating Russian agriculture, and they are securing specimens of cereal and forage crops seen in Saskatchewan to send to their country for analysis in the production of them in Russia.

Already, Professor Tulokov stated, they have sent back upwards of 5,000 samples of grains and grasses from Canada to guide their co-workers in the production of them in Russia.

At the Parliament Buildings, Regina, the two officials gave a lecture on agricultural subjects published by the Provincial Government, and statistics regarding crop districts in the province.

They held a conference also with M. P. Tullis, Field Crops Commissioner, and discussed the position that Saskatchewan wages every year. Russia, they state, has a similar problem, and has not found any means of dealing with the lupine plague.

A feature of their trip to Saskatchewan was the fact that they had seen their country wheat samples of types that were originally imported to Western Canada from Russia.

Professor Tulokov said, has not yet recovered from the revolution and the war, but it is rapidly coming back into its own.

The average yield in the country this year was good, and it Russia had the transportation facilities as had a wheat export, she would again be a before exporter. Another year or two will see a return to normal conditions in the agrarian industry in the new republic.

Lignite Plant Question

Some Unpleasant Created by Failure to Commence Full Operations

With the ordering of an independent report into the actual conditions at the lignite utilization plant at Hildesheim, it is understood that some unpleasance has been created by the failure of the plant to commence full operations.

Although an official announcement of policy is lacking, it is believed that the government has decided to bring the question of continuing the lignite utilization commission before both the Federal and Manitoba Governments. The position of Saskatchewan Government, which the third Government involved in the building of the plant, is not known.

So far, $1,000,000 in round figures has been expended by the commission, the state of some of the province's lignite resources in Saskatchewan and Alberta—taking a figure of the total, and the Federal Government the balance.

In giving their official report of the flight, the aviators revealed that during their nearly thirty hours in the air they were in the midst of a storm of rain for several hours and thirty minutes.

Ascending the mountains the wind was so strong that it threatened several times to turn the ship over. Brighter Prospects for Employment Employment will be much better in Canada this winter than last, according to a statement made by C. D. Ford, Superintendent of the Government Employment Service at Ottawa. Building and construction trades, lumbering and farm work will be fairly active this winter and at the present time there is a considerable demand for men in those industries.

Clark—Brown

A quiet wedding was solemnized in Wesley Church parsonage on Saturday last Dec. 2nd, when Robert Bruce Clark and Esther Violet Brown, both of Burdett, were united in matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W.E. MacNiven. Mr. and Mrs. Clark will reside on the groom's farm at Burdett.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. R.H. Ostrom on December 6th, a daughter

The Burdett held by the Ladies' Aid of the Union Church was an unqualified success. The weatherman handed out the very prettiest day he had for winter and there were a lot of people from the country, and although the seats were well stocked and all ready for business, it was not long before they were completely sold out. The Sunshine Girls had a toy booth and cleaned out taking in $37.05, which made them feel very satisfied with themselves. Dinner was served from 2 o'clock till 8 in the evening, although making a very successful day. The Ladies wish to thank all who attended fancy work, food etc., and who helped in any way whatever.

Mr. Harrison of Calgary the Fire Insurance Adjuster was here last week to adjust the loss on Mr. Burnham's house.

At the council meeting Monday night, being nomination night, there was very little interest shown, the old council consisting of George Loucas W.D. Anderson, Alfred Ahlert were nominated and R.H. Ostrom.

The young folks of the neighbourhood are planning a "Chivane" to celebrate the Clark Brown nuptials.

Big Dairy Convention

One of the largest dairy conventions ever held in Alberta is billed to take place at Calgary January 26th to 29th, when the dairymen of all Western Canada will meet there in annual conference. Delegates from the four western provinces will be in attendance. The Alberta provincial dairy convention will be held at the same time, and a very large gathering of dairymen during that week is expected. This will make the capital cost of the project about $225,000.
